Registration Opens for Countywide Cleanup, Creek to Bay

San Diego County, CA – Online volunteer registration has begun for I Love A Clean San Diego's signature event, the Creek to Bay Cleanup. As part of the national Great American Cleanup, an estimated 6,000 San Diegans will be needed as volunteers on Saturday, April 27th from 9:00am to 12noon at 92 cleanup sites countywide. Participants will help preserve the local environment by cleaning up local outdoor areas, including beaches, bays, creeks, canyons, parks and urban areas. Volunteers of all ages are encouraged to participate. A complete list of cleanup sites, of which 25 are coastal and 67 are inland, is available on the event website, www.CreekttoBay.org.

The Creek to Bay Cleanup is one of a handful of community engagement projects coordinated by I Love A Clean San Diego each year. The organization has been mobilizing volunteers around beautification and pollution prevention projects since 1954. Just last year, ILACSD engaged 31,000 volunteers to remove 180 tons of debris from our local environment.

Sign up to clean up online at: www.CreekttoBay.org.
